The only tickets legally allowed to be resold at Wimbledon are debenture tickets (purple section), which offer fantastic “club level” viewing at the same level of the royal box. These seats for Centre Court are in the 200 gangways (sections) and the first few rows of the 300 gangways.

Your debenture tickets are valid for the whole day's play on Centre Court and provide full access to the unreserved seating on the outside courts of the All England Lawn Tennis ground.

Court 1 debenture tickets only provide access to sessions on Court 1 and the unreserved seating on the outside courts.

All debenture tickets provide you with daily access to the debenture holder's exclusive lounges which feature private restaurants, bars, bathrooms, and more.

Additional Experiences

Iconic Landmark Tour

Be awed by Westminster Abbey, bounce around Buckingham Palace, wander through Windsor Castle, and climb to the top of the Tower Bridge. London is filled with iconic and majestic attractions of historical and cultural importance. A private day-tour offers you the ability to experience the city at your own pace. Sightsee, then stop for a unique afternoon tea experience at Sketch in Mayfair.

Mingle Through the Food Markets

London is filled with local food markets. The oldest and most famous of London's food markets, dating back to the 13th century, is the Borough Market. London's top chefs shop for fresh ingredients at Borough Market's specialty food shops and stalls, while crowds of visitors are drawn to the diverse street food. You can find almost anything here – from fresh seafood and rare French cheeses to Croatian sausage, freshly baked cakes, ostrich burgers, and every spice imaginable.

Additional Experiences

National Gallery Tour

London's classical art gallery and one of the top art galleries in the world. When the National Gallery was founded in 1824, it displayed just 38 paintings. Today, it's home to over 2300 works of art, from medieval paintings to world-famous Impressionist works. You will see the likes of Leonardo, Michelangelo, Correggio, and standout works from Rembrandt, Van Gough, and Monet.

Nightlife Experience in Soho

Soho is considered the heart of London nightlife. This colorful, bohemian center of London has many things to offer; the legendary jazz club that's hosted stars like Miles Davis Dean, the famous speakeasy where Charles de Gaulle drank during WWII, and underground experimental cocktail clubs. If you are into dancing, check out the legendary Marquee Club where artists such as David Bowie, the Rolling Stones, and U2 have performed.

Additional Experiences

Champagne and Canapes on the London Eye

Relax and enjoy an extra special look at London's skyline in your very own private capsule. Sip chilled champagnes and nibble on canapes in your cozy cabin as you experience unforgettable views from Europe's tallest observation wheel. Built in 2000 in honor of the coming millennium, the London Eye has quickly become one of London's best-loved attractions.

Tour the Tate Modern Museum

This powerhouse of contemporary art is Britain's most visited and spectacular gallery. Once a power station on the Thames, this magnificent venue showcases minimalism, surrealism, and post-war abstraction artwork by Picasso, Anthony Gormley, Salvador Dalí, and Andy Warhol.
